THE PUBLISHING AGREEMENT

Assignment of publishing rights

I hereby assign to the Copyright Owner the copyright in the manuscript identified above (government authors not electing to transfer agree to assign an exclusive publishing and distribution license) and any supplemental tables, illustrations or other information submitted therewith that are intended for publication as part of the manuscript (the "Article") in all forms and media (whether now known or hereafter developed), throughout the world, in all languages, for the full term of copyright, effective when and if the article is accepted for publication. This transfer includes the right to provide the Article in electronic and online forms and systems. With respect to supplemental data that I wish to make accessible through a link in the Article, I hereby grant a non-exclusive license for such linking. If I have agreed with the Copyright Owner to make available such supplemental data on a site or through a service of the Copyright Owner, I hereby grant a non-exclusive license for such publication, posting and making available, and further permit indexing and archiving.

Articles may sometimes be accepted for publication but later rejected in the publication process, even in some cases after public posting in "Articles in Press" form, in which event all rights will revert to the author (see <http://www.elsevier.com/locate/withdrawalpolicy>).

Revisions and addenda

I understand that no revisions, additional terms or addenda to this Agreement can be accepted without the Copyright Owner's express written consent.

Note: authors at institutions that place restrictions on copyright assignments or that assert an institutional right to distribute or provide access to the works of institutional authors, must obtain an express waiver from those institutions releasing the author from such restrictions to enable the acceptance of this publishing agreement.

Retention of Rights for Scholarly Purposes (see Definitions below)

I understand that I retain or am hereby granted (without the need to obtain further permission) the Retained Rights (see description below and definitions), and that no rights in patents, trademarks or other intellectual property rights are transferred to the Copyright Owner.

The Retained Rights include:

- the right to use the Preprint or Accepted Author Manuscript for Personal Use, Internal Institutional Use and for Permitted Scholarly Posting; and
- the right to use the Published Journal Article for Personal Use and Internal Institutional Use, but in each case as noted in the Definitions excluding Commercial Use or Systematic Distribution (unless expressly agreed in writing by the Copyright Owner).

Author Representations/Ethics and Disclosure

I affirm the Author Representations noted below, and confirm that I have reviewed and complied with the relevant Instructions to Authors, Ethics in Publishing policy, and Conflicts of Interest disclosure. Please note that some journals may require that all co-authors sign and submit Conflicts of Interest disclosure forms. I am also aware of the publisher's policies with respect to retractions and withdrawal (<http://www.elsevier.com/locate/withdrawalpolicy>).

For further information see the publishing ethics page at <http://www.elsevier.com/publishingethics> and the journal home page.

Author representations

- The article I have submitted to the journal for review is original, has been written by the stated authors and has not been published elsewhere.
- The article is not currently being considered for publication by any other journal and will not be submitted for such review while under review by this journal.
- The article contains no libellous or other unlawful statements and does not contain any materials that violate any personal or proprietary rights of any other person or entity.
- I have obtained written permission from copyright owners for any excerpts from copyrighted works that are included and have credited the sources in my article.
- If I am using any personal details or images of patients or research subjects, I have obtained written permission or consent from the patient (or, where applicable, the next of kin). See <http://www.elsevier.com/patientphotographs> for further information.
- If the article was prepared jointly with other authors, I have informed the co-author(s) of the terms of this publishing agreement and that I am signing on their behalf as their agent, and I am authorized to do so.

Funding agency and sponsorship options

The publisher posts information on funding agencies and arrangements that the publisher has made with such bodies at <http://www.elsevier.com/fundingbodyagreements>. I understand that documents can be downloaded from this site to help me comply with certain agency requirements. Information can also be found at <http://www.elsevier.com/sponsoredarticles> concerning sponsorship options and rights issues concerning publication-fee model journals (information can also be found on the journal home page).

For information on the publisher's copyright and access policies, please see <http://www.elsevier.com/copyright>.

DEFINITIONS

Accepted Author Manuscript (“AAM”)

Author’s version of the manuscript of an article that has been accepted for publication and which may include any author-incorporated changes suggested through the processes of submission processing, peer review, and editor-author communications. AAMs should not include other publisher value-added contributions such as copy-editing, formatting and (if relevant) pagination, and should include the Appropriate Bibliographic Citation and a link to the final publication (generally through the relevant DOI).

Appropriate Bibliographic Citation

Authors posting Accepted Author Manuscript online should later add a citation for the Published Journal Article indicating that the Article was subsequently published, and may mention the journal title provided they add the following text at the beginning of the document:

“NOTICE: this is the author’s version of a work that was accepted for publication in <Journal title>. Changes resulting from the publishing process, such as peer review, editing, corrections, structural formatting, and other quality control mechanisms may not be reflected in this document. Changes may have been made to this work since it was submitted for publication. A definitive version was subsequently published in PUBLICATION, [VOL#, ISSUE#, (DATE)] DOI#”

Commercial Use

The use or posting of articles for commercial gain or to substitute for the services provided directly by the journal including:

- the posting by companies of their employee-authored works for use by customers of such companies (e.g. pharmaceutical companies and physician-prescribers); and
- commercial exploitation such as directly associating advertising with such posting or the charging of fees for document delivery or access.

Internal Institutional Use

Use by the author’s institution for classroom teaching at the institution (including distribution of copies, paper or electronic, and use in coursepacks and courseware programs) for scholarly purposes. For authors employed by companies, the use by that company for internal training purposes.

Personal Use

Use by an author in the author’s classroom teaching (including distribution of copies, paper or electronic), distribution of copies to research colleagues for their personal use, use in a subsequent compilation of the author’s works, inclusion in a thesis or dissertation, preparation of other derivative works such as extending the article to book-length form, or otherwise using or re-using portions or excerpts in other works (with full acknowledgment of the original publication of the article).

Permitted Scholarly Posting

Voluntary posting of AAMs or Preprints by an author on open Web sites operated by the author or the author’s institution for scholarly purposes, as determined by the author, or (in connection with Preprints) on preprint servers, but not for Commercial Use or Systematic Distribution. The author should include the Appropriate Bibliographic Citation when posting AAMs. Deposit in or posting to subject-oriented or centralised repositories (such as PubMed Central), or institutional repositories with mandates for systematic postings, is permitted only under specific agreements between the publisher and the repository, agency or institution, and only consistent with the Copyright Owner’s policies concerning such repositories. To learn more about the publisher’s policies and agreements with such agencies or institutions go to <http://www.elsevier.com/fundingbodyagreements>.

Preprint

Author’s own write-up of research results and analysis that has not been refereed, nor had any other value added to it by a publisher (such as formatting, copy editing, and the like).

Published Journal Article

The definitive final record of published research that appears or will appear in the journal and embodies all value-adding publisher activities including copy-editing, formatting and (if relevant) pagination.

Systematic Distribution

Policies or other mechanisms designed to aggregate and openly disseminate manuscripts or articles, or to substitute for journal-provided services, including:

- the systematic distribution to others via e-mail lists or listservers (to parties other than known colleagues), whether for a fee or for free;
- the posting of links to sponsored articles by commercial third parties including pharmaceutical companies;
- institutional, funding body or government manuscript posting policies or mandates that aim to aggregate and openly distribute the accepted, peer reviewed manuscripts or published journal articles authored by its researchers or funded researchers; and
- subject repositories that aim to aggregate and openly distribute accepted peer reviewed manuscripts or published journal articles authored by researchers in specific subject areas.
