

Call for Papers

Finance Research Letters seeks short, original papers on all finance fields, including but not limited to:

- asset pricing
- corporate finance
- financial intermediation
- financial econometrics
- financial forecasting
- financial engineering
- insurance
- investments
- risk management
- regulation

Specializing in peer-reviewed letters published on an accelerated timetable, Finance Research Letters offers an exciting publication outlet for novel and frontier finance. With its first issue scheduled for January 2004, Finance Research Letters will be read by academicians and market professionals in finance, banking, financial engineering, risk management, and insurance fields.

Manuscripts should not exceed 6 printed pages (or 2400 words), including diagrams, figures, and tables. They must be written in English and submitted electronically by e-mail (fri@elsevier.com) or FTP (<ftp.elsevier.com>, with username anon and password essd4acc). Manuscripts should be submitted as a single pdf file that contains the text, tables, and figures. For complete submission guidelines, please see the Finance Research Letters website at <http://www.elsevier.com/locate/fri>.