

American Journal of Medicine Guide for Authors: Required Components for AJM Submission (10/1/07)

Thank you for considering The American Journal of Medicine. Please use the following instructions as a guide. When formatting your manuscript for submission, also please refer to a recent issue of the Journal to view the types of articles that are accepted for each section. The editors reserve the right to move your manuscript to a section for which it is better suited.

Submissions that do not conform to the Journal's specifications for word limit and/or format may be sent back to the author for correction before peer review.

Although there is a designated word limit for each type of submission to AJM, authors may be asked to shorten their text. AJM editors prefer tightly written articles. Longer, more scientific articles may be published online in their entirety, with only an abstract printed in the journal. There is no designated table or figure limit, but please include only the data and images that are necessary to illustrate the manuscript.

All manuscripts must be submitted through the Journal's online submission and review system available at <http://www.ees.elsevier.com/ajm>. No paper or e-mail submissions will be accepted. Technical support for authors is available.

Brief Observations

Abstract	Structured abstract required (purpose or background, methods, results, conclusions). The maximum word count for structured abstracts is 250 words. If your manuscript is accepted for AJM Online, only the abstract will be printed in the journal. Please make sure that your abstract concisely explains your manuscript.
Word limit	1750 words including abstract, text, references, and acknowledgements but not the title page.
Cover Letter	State type of manuscript, the title, and the authors. Confirm that the manuscript is original research that has not been published and is not under consideration elsewhere. Confirm that all of the authors participated in the preparation of the manuscript. Confirm that you have permission to reprint any figures or tables that were initially printed elsewhere.
Title Page	Include: manuscript title, all authors and affiliations; corresponding author and full contact information; running head; 6-8 keywords.
Clinical Significance	In a separate document, include a maximum of 3-4 bullet points that succinctly and specifically explain the clinical significance of your manuscript. Bullets should provide readers with your manuscript's "take home" messages for practicing internists. Do not restate information that would be considered common knowledge. Do not call for additional research in this area. (Maximum 70 words.)
Conflict of Interest	In a separate document, state any potential conflicts of interest for each author or confirm that there are none. Each author should sign the document. Electronic signatures are acceptable.
Focus	Brief Observations focus on research studies that included 100 or fewer subjects. If your manuscript is a case study, it should be submitted as a Clinical Communication to the Editor.
Photos/ Illustrations	300 dpi (or greater) tiff files are required for publication. If high resolution images are not available, your manuscript may be rejected for this reason. Do not use Word, Power Point or PDF format for photographs or illustrations. Limit: 4 tables, figures, photographs or illustrations.
Line Art Figures	Line art figures can be submitted in Microsoft Word or Power Point. Any type that is included in a figure must be at least 12 point but not more than 14 point. Similar figures should be formatted in the same fashion. Limit: 4 tables, figures, photographs or illustrations.
Tables/ Figures	No more than 4 tables, figures, photographs or illustrations (total).
Other	Manuscript titles should be 8-10 words or less.
	Avoid overuse of acronyms in the text. Use only well-known acronyms (ie, HIV, STD, CT, MRI, DNA, etc.) Manuscripts with an overabundance of acronyms will be sent back to the author for correction.

	Use style guide of the American Medical Association as a reference.
	Double space all text.
	Superscript all references in text.
	Make sure all references are used in the text.
	If English is not your native language, AJM editors strongly encourage you to have your text edited by a professional translator or native English speaker before submission. (This will most likely eliminate an extra revision step.)
	Manuscripts may be accepted for print or online only publication. The editors will determine the format.
