

Aesthetic Surgery Journal Conflicts of Interest Disclosure Statement

In order for the readership of Aesthetic Surgery Journal, the bimonthly clinical magazine published by the American Society for Aesthetic Plastic Surgery, Inc., to properly evaluate information, analyses and opinions presented in written articles, it is imperative that the readership be openly informed of any aspect of the personal, financial or professional circumstances that might significantly affect the contributor's attitude or judgment regarding the particular written subject. Therefore, the American Society for Aesthetic Plastic Surgery, Inc., requires that contributors disclose all actual and potential conflicts of interest, whether real or apparent.

EXAMPLES OF SITUATIONS CALLING FOR DISCLOSURE

- A. Your receipt of financial support from a manufacturer or other commercial source for research activities or other scientific work presented in your article.
- B. Any personal, financial or proprietary interest held by you in any product or service, or consultant relationship to any company's product or service presented in your article.
- C. Any personal, financial or proprietary interest of a spouse or family member in any product or service presented in your article.

CONTRIBUTOR'S ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY

I acknowledge that I have read and considered the conflict of interest statement above. I hereby certify that, to the best of my knowledge, no aspect of my current personal or professional situation might reasonably be expected to significantly affect my views on the subject I am presenting, except perhaps the following:

(Describe any exceptions. Please print or type.)

- A. I understand that my article is to contain no mention of any products or services offered to which I have any direct or indirect connection which I have not disclosed in this conflict of interest statement.
- B. I understand that the American Society for Aesthetic Plastic Surgery, Inc., is not responsible for the content of my article, and I accept full responsibility for the article's appropriate and ethical material.
- C. I certify that all photographic material in which the patient is identifiable is accompanied by the appropriate signed patient release forms.
- D. I will promptly disclose any actual or apparent conflicts of interest that may arise after I sign this form before my article is published.
- E. I understand that Aesthetic Surgery Journal may publish a statement disclosing my personal, financial or proprietary interests in any product or service presented in my article.
