

Supplementary Data

Authors submitting to Social Networks can now submit electronic supplementary material to support and enhance their research. 'Supplementary files' offer authors additional possibilities to publish supporting applications, movies, animation sequences, high-resolution images, background datasets, sound clips and more. Supplementary files supplied will be published online alongside the electronic version of articles in Elsevier web products, including ScienceDirect.

Supplementary data should be submitted along with the manuscript using the electronic submission system for Social Networks.
