

GUIDE FOR AUTHORS

Finance Research Letters aims to be the only letters journal for all areas of finance. Specializing in peer-reviewed letters published on an accelerated timetable, Finance Research Letters offers an exciting publication outlet for novel and frontier finance. The journal's high standards and wide dissemination ensure a broad readership among the finance and economics communities.

Finance Research Letters encourages submissions of new research in all finance fields, from asset pricing, investments, risk management, regulation, and insurance to corporate finance, financial intermediation, financial econometrics, financial forecasting, and financial engineering. It excludes fields widely considered to be part of economics, such as macro- and microeconomics, economic theory, economic history, and industrial organization.

Submission of Manuscript. Manuscripts must be written in clear, concise, grammatical English. Submission to this journal proceeds totally online. Use the following guidelines to prepare your article. Via the "Author Gateway" page of this journal (<http://authors.elsevier.com/>) you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files. The system automatically converts source files to a single Adobe Acrobat PDF version of the article, which is used in the peer-review process. Please note that even though manuscript source files are converted to PDF at submission for the review process, these source files are needed for further processing after acceptance. All correspondence, including notification of the Editor's decision and requests for revision, takes place by e-mail and via the author's homepage, removing the need for a hard-copy paper trail. The above represents a very brief outline of this form of submission. It can be advantageous to print this "Guide for Authors" section from the site for reference in the subsequent stages of article preparation. Should you be unable to provide an electronic version, please contact the Editorial Office prior to submission at:

Finance Research Letters
525 B Street, Suite 1900
San Diego, CA 92101-4495, USA

E-mail: FRL@elsevier.com
Telephone: (619) 699-6312

There is submission fee of USD $65.00, which is payable by Visa or MasterCard. Go to the journal website to pay the submission fee online at the time of the submission.

Original papers only will be considered. Manuscripts are accepted for review with the understanding that the same work has not been published, that it is not under consideration for publication elsewhere, and that its submission for publication has been approved by all of the authors and by the institution where the work was carried out. It is further understood that any person cited as a source of personal communications has approved such citation; written authorization may be required at the editors' discretion. Articles and any other material published in Finance Research Letters represent the opinions of the authors and should not be construed to reflect the opinions of the editors or the publisher.

Upon acceptance of an article, authors will be asked to sign a "Journal Publishing Agreement" (for more information on this and copyright see <http://authors.elsevier.com/>). Acceptance of the agreement will ensure the widest possible dissemination of information. An e-mail (or letter) will be sent to the corresponding author confirming receipt of the manuscript together with a 'Journal Publishing Agreement' form.

If excerpts from other copyrighted works are included, the author(s) must obtain written permission from the copyright owners and credit the source(s) in the article. Elsevier has preprinted forms for use by authors in these cases: contact Elsevier's Rights Department, Oxford, UK: phone (+44) 1865 843830, fax (+44) 1865 853333, e-mail permissions@elsevier.com. Requests may also be completed online via the Elsevier homepage (<http://www.elsevier.com/locate/permissions>).

Special Subject Repositories. Certain repositories such as PubMed Central ("PMC") are authorized under special arrangement with Elsevier to process and post certain articles such as those funded by the National Institutes of Health under its Public Access policy (see elsevier.com for more detail on our policy).

Articles accepted for publication in an Elsevier journal from authors who have indicated that the underlying research reported in their articles was supported by an NIH grant will be sent by Elsevier to PMC for public access posting 12 months after final publication. The version of the article provided by Elsevier will include peer-review comments incorporated by the author into the article. Because the NIH 'Public Access' policy is voluntary, authors may elect not to deposit such articles in PMC. If you wish to 'opt out' and not deposit to PMC, you may indicate this by sending an e-mail to NIHauthorrequest@elsevier.com.

Authors' Rights. As an author you (or your employer or institution) retain certain rights; for details you are referred to: <http://www.elsevier.com/wps/find/authorshome.authors/authorsrights>.

Preparation of Manuscript. Manuscripts should be double-spaced throughout. The number of pages should not exceed 15 manuscript pages, including diagrams, figures, and tables.

We accept most wordprocessing formats, but Word, WordPerfect or LaTeX is preferred. Always keep a backup copy of the electronic file for reference and safety. Save your files using the default extension of the program used. If the LaTeX file is suitable, proofs will be produced without rekeying the text. The article should preferably be written using Elsevier's document class "elsart," or alternatively the standard document class "article."

The Elsevier LaTeX package (including detailed instructions for LaTeX preparation) can be obtained from the Author Gateway's Quickguide: <http://authors.elsevier.com/latex>. It consists of the files: `elsart.cls`, guidelines for users of `elsart`, a template file for quick start, and the instruction booklet "Preparing articles with LaTeX."

Language Polishing. Authors who require information about language editing and copyediting services pre- and post-submission please visit <http://www.elsevier.com/wps/find/authorshome.authors/languagepolishing> or contact authorsupport@elsevier.com for more information. Please note Elsevier neither endorses nor takes responsibility for any products, goods or services offered by outside vendors through our services or in any advertising. For more information please refer to our Terms & Conditions http://www.elsevier.com/wps/find/termsconditions.cws\_home/termsconditions.

The Title Page (p. 1) should contain the article title, authors' names and complete affiliations, footnotes to the title, and the address for manuscript correspondence (including e-mail address and telephone and fax numbers).

The Abstract (p. 2) must be a single paragraph that summarizes the main findings of the paper in less than 100 words. Use the abstract format required by the Journal of Economic Literature (JEL) (<http://www.aeaweb.org/journal/elclasjn.html>). After the abstract, include a list of up to 10 keywords that will be useful for indexing or searching and at least 4 JEL classification numbers.

References should be cited in the text by the author's surname and date of publication. The text citations can be given in the form "As Cummins (1988) showed . . ." or "As already shown (Cummins, 1988; Shah and Thakor, 1987) . . ." Where there are more than two authors, use the first author's surname followed by et al.: "In Laffont et al. (1987) it was . . ."

List references in alphabetical order. Type the references double-spaced throughout. Only articles that have been published or are in press should be included in the references. Unpublished results or personal communications should be cited as such in the text. Journal titles are spelled out. Please note the following examples:

Kamien, M., Schwartz, N., 1981. Dynamic Optimization. North-Holland, New York.

Laffont, J.-J., Maskin, E., Rochet, J.-C., 1987. Optimal nonlinear pricing with two-dimensional characteristics. In: Groves, T., Radner, R., Reiter, S. (Eds.), Information, Incentives, and Economics Mechanisms. University of Minnesota Press, Minneapolis, pp. 256–266.

Miller, D.P., Puthenpurackal, J.J., 2002. The cost, wealth effects, and determinants of international capital raising: Evidence from public Yankee bonds. Journal of Financial Intermediation 11, 455–485.

For unpublished lectures or symposia, include the title of the paper, name of the sponsoring society in full, location, and date. Working paper and manuscript styles are noted below.

Lo, A., 1999. The equity premium puzzle. Department of Finance Working Paper No: 1999-10. University of Washington, Seattle, WA.

Lo, A., 1999. The equity premium puzzle. Manuscript. Department of Finance, University of Washington, Seattle, WA.

The digital object identifier (DOI) may be used to cite and link to electronic documents. The DOI consists of a unique alpha-numeric character string which is assigned to a document by the publisher upon the initial electronic publication. The assigned DOI never changes. Therefore, it is an ideal medium for citing a document, particularly 'Articles in press' because they have not yet received their full bibliographic information.

The correct format for citing a DOI is shown as follows (example taken from a document in the journal Physics Letters B): doi:10.1016/j.physletb.2003.10.071.

When you use the DOI to create URL hyperlinks to documents on the web, they are guaranteed never to change.

Colour illustrations. Please make sure that artwork files are in an acceptable format (TIFF, EPS or MS Office files) and with the correct resolution. If, together with your accepted article, you submit usable colour figures then Elsevier will ensure, at no additional charge, that these figures will appear in colour on the Web (e.g., ScienceDirect and other sites) regardless of whether or not these illustrations are reproduced in colour in the printed version. For colour reproduction in print, you will receive information regarding the costs from Elsevier after receipt of your accepted article. Please indicate your preference for colour in print or on the Web only. For further information on the preparation of electronic artwork, please see <http://authors.elsevier.com/artwork>.

Please note: Because of technical complications which can arise by converting colour figures to "grey scale" (for the printed version should you not opt for colour in print) please submit in addition usable black and white versions of all the colour illustrations.

Tables should be numbered consecutively with Arabic numerals in order of appearance in the text. Type each table double-spaced on a separate page with a short descriptive title typed directly above and with essential footnotes below.

Equations should be typewritten and the numbers for displayed equations should be placed in parentheses at the right margin. References to equations should use the form "Eq. (3)" or simply "(3)."

Preparation of supplementary data. Elsevier accepts supplementary material to support and enhance your scientific research. Supplementary files offer the author additional possibilities to publish supporting applications, movies, animation sequences, high-resolution images, background datasets, sound clips and more. Supplementary files supplied will be published online alongside the electronic version of your article in Elsevier Web products, including ScienceDirect: <http://www.sciencedirect.com>. In order to ensure that your submitted material is directly usable, please ensure that data is provided in one of our recommended file formats. Authors should submit the material in electronic format together with the article and supply a concise and descriptive caption for each file. For more detailed instructions please visit our artwork instruction pages at the Author Gateway at <http://authors.elsevier.com/artwork>.

PDF proofs. One set of page proofs in PDF format will be sent by e-mail to the corresponding author (if we do not have an e-mail address then paper proofs will be sent by post). Elsevier now sends PDF proofs which can be annotated; for this you will need to download Adobe Reader version 7 available free from <http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/readstep2.html>. Instructions on how to annotate PDF files will accompany the proofs. The exact system requirements are given at the Adobe site: <http://www.adobe.com/products/acrobat/acrsystemreqs.html#70win>.

If you do not wish to use the PDF annotations function, you may list the corrections (including replies to the Query Form) and return to Elsevier in an e-mail. Please list your corrections quoting line number. If, for any reason, this is not possible, then mark the corrections and any other comments (including replies to the Query Form) on a printout of your proof and return by fax, or scan the pages and e-mail, or by post.

Please use this proof only for checking the typesetting, editing, completeness and correctness of the text, tables and figures. Significant changes to the article as accepted for publication will only be considered at this stage with permission from the Editor. We will do everything possible to get your article published quickly and accurately. Therefore, it is important to ensure that all of your corrections are sent back to us in one communication: please check carefully before replying, as inclusion of any subsequent corrections cannot be guaranteed. Proofreading is solely your responsibility. Note that Elsevier may proceed with the publication of your article if no response is received.

Offprints. The corresponding author, at no cost, will be provided with a PDF file of the article via e-mail or, alternatively, 25 free paper offprints. The PDF file is a watermarked version of the published article and includes a cover sheet with the journal cover image and a disclaimer outlining the terms and conditions of use. Additional paper offprints can be ordered by the authors. An order form with prices will be sent to the corresponding author.
