

Agreement with universities in the Netherlands: If an author publishes open access in any of the journals listed below, the article processing charge (APC) will be paid for through a central payment scheme set up by the Dutch universities and Elsevier. Authors publishing open access in any other journal will need to pay for the APC (see overview of Elsevier APCs below).

Elsevier overview of APCs

Note: This list represents the journals that are currently included in APC payment scheme between Elsevier and Dutch universities. Journals will be added to this list as the scheme progresses into later phases; this list will be updated accordingly to always reflect the latest changes.
