WHAT IF THE PATH NOT TAKEN IS THE PATH TO DISCOVERY?

To innovate, researchers must make connections to critical contextual background knowledge when learning about a new subject or doing interdisciplinary research.

Books are a trusted, comprehensive, and reliable resource, but locating them through online searches can be time-consuming.

Guiding Your Path

Access topic pages via online search and hyperlinks to journal articles.

Structure of a Topic Page

- Content defines unfamiliar terms
- Related terms connect content across topics by forming a networked view
