

Fast facts about Elsevier

Elsevier, a global leader in information and analytics, helps researchers and healthcare professionals advance science and improve health outcomes for the benefit of society. Growing from our roots in publishing, we have supported the work of our research and health partners for more than 140 years. Elsevier offers knowledge and valuable analytics that help our users make breakthroughs and drive societal progress.

> 8,100

More than 8,100 employees, including 1,700 technologists around the world.

~ 184m

About 184 million downloads of expert, curated information for the research and health community via Elsevier's free Novel Coronavirus Information Center in 2020 to date.

> 1/4

Elsevier provides more than a quarter of the peer-reviewed resources in Research4Life: approximately 23,500 journals and 86,000 eBooks for researchers in over 100 developing countries.

Trusted partner

18%

Publishing 18% of global research output while garnering 26% of citation share demonstrates Elsevier's commitment to delivering research quality significantly ahead of the industry average.

2,500

We publish 2,500 digitized journals, including The Lancet and Cell. Our 40,000+ eBook titles include iconic reference works such as Gray's Anatomy.

84%

84% of Elsevier's revenue comes from digital products.

99%

99% of Nobel Laureates in science have published in Elsevier journals since 2000.

25k

About 25,000 academic and government institutions around the world use our products.

Open access

2,500

2,500 digitized journals, including The Lancet and Cell Press, offer options to publish open access and make an article freely available. We help hundreds of institutions around the globe build their own open access programs by providing them with a cloud-hosted infrastructure using Digital Commons.

> 4.3m

More than 4.3 million open access articles are surfaced via Digital Commons and have been shared nearly a billion times.

> 370

Elsevier publishes over 370 fully open access titles. These sit alongside more than 1,900 hybrid journals that already offer the option to publish open access.

Supporting the research community

> 1b

More than 1 billion articles were downloaded by researchers in 2019.

> 76m

With more than 76 million records across 25,000 journals from over 5,000 publishers, Scopus enables researchers to track, analyze and visualize the world's research output.

> 496k

More than 496,000 peer-reviewed articles were published in 2019 — 60% more than a decade ago.

> 17m

More than 17 million monthly unique users visit ScienceDirect, the world's largest database dedicated to peer-reviewed primary scientific and medical research.

Supporting the health community

> 400

More than 400 institutions are using Sherpath, an adaptive teaching and learning solution for nursing.

~ 100

About 100 countries access ClinicalKey, our flagship clinical reference platform, including >1,900 institutions in North America alone.

1.6m

More than 1.6 million registered users in over 400 medical schools and universities worldwide are using Complete Anatomy, the world's most advanced 3D anatomy education platform.