

Unlocking the full potential of research data

An easy to use online notebook to help biologists manage their cutting edge research.

Built by biologists, for biologists it tracks ALL your research information.

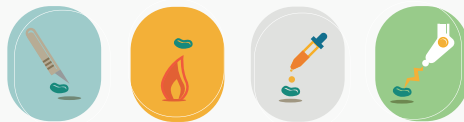

Researchers save time by ditching the old notebook and going paper less...

and it's easily searchable, so no more lost research notes or lab findings.

Improve collaboration with colleagues

And simply & quickly compare experiments that work or those that fail.

PI's can track their team's progress with emails & notifications direct from the lab.

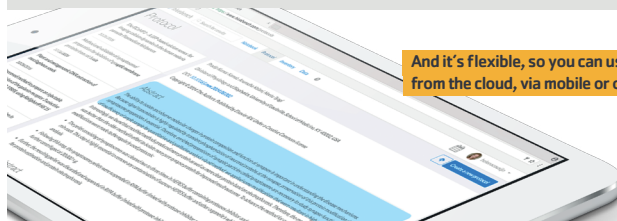

Easily comply to all funder requirements using the seamless integration with the Mendeley Data Repository.

U P L O A D

Upload in one click key, findings along with files and methods for storing, sharing and publishing data outside the lab

Totally secure, we follow industry standards to protect & preserve your data

And it's flexible, so you can use it locally or from the cloud, via mobile or on a tablet.
