

Copyright Assignment Form for Cover Images

Authorship for Ophthalmology®, Ophthalmology Retina™, Ophthalmology Glaucoma™, or Ophthalmology Science™ cover photographs is limited to two photographers and two clinicians. A title, list of authors and institution/location are all that will appear in the Table of Contents. The photographers and clinicians must each sign the copyright assignment. This form must have the correct title and author(s) listed in the order in which they will appear in print. If this information is not filled in appropriately, your submission will be returned to you as incomplete.

Title of Photograph:

Photographer(s):

Clinician(s):

Institution/Location:

Each author must sign a Copyright Assignment Form. The signatures need not appear on the same page, but they must be original. Authors whose articles were written as a part of their official duties while in the employ of the U.S. government should sign the second statement below, following the heading "For U.S. Government Employees Only." The journal will not publish any cover photograph until this form, signed by each author, has been received in the editorial office. All hard copy photographs submitted become the property of the American Academy of Ophthalmology.

In consideration of the journal, Ophthalmology®, Ophthalmology Retina™, Ophthalmology Glaucoma™, or Ophthalmology Science™, taking action in reviewing and editing my (our) submission, the author(s) undersigned hereby transfers, assigns, or otherwise conveys all copyright ownership to the American Academy of Ophthalmology in the event that such work is published in either journal. Such conveyance covers any product, whether print or electronic, that may derive from the published journal.
